EVERSON MUSEUM OF ART

PURPOSE

The Everson Museum Virtual Outreach program increases access to the visual arts for those that may otherwise be unable to visit the Museum. The program provides quality educational experiences based on the mission of the Everson Museum of Art: to increase audiences' understanding and appreciation of the arts, and promote lifelong learning. Due to COVID, the Everson is currently doing virtual visits.

WHO DO WE VISIT?

Our trained docents visit a diverse range of groups, from senior centers to K-12 schools with an emphasis on groups that are not able to physically visit the Museum.

"I was so impressed by the level of planning and engaging presentation. We loved it! Thank you!"

VIRTUAL PROGRAMS

The Everson's highly trained docents can give presentations and demonstrations. Docents are knowledgeable, friendly, and enthusiastic. They receive extensive professional development that enables them to engage audiences of all ages, making every program a stimulating and memorable experience. Programs generally last one hour, but can be modified to accommodate specific needs.

VIRTUAL ART MAKING

Virtual art making demonstrations incorporate a variety of media including painting, drawing, collage, clay, and more. Activities relate to Museum collections and special exhibitions. Docents tailor activities to the needs and abilities of participants, including one-to-one guidance.

VIRTUAL ART TALKS

Presentations cover a range of topics including the history of the Everson, architecture, the Museum's collection and special exhibitions. The collection includes works by American artists from the 18th century to the present.

VISUAL THINKING STRATEGIES

Visual Thinking Strategies (VTS) is an open-ended discussion about art and provides an inquiry-based approach to looking at art.
